ESSAY TOPIC:

A child's education is the foundation from which he or she will be able to go forth out into the world and build a life. Schools play a major role in this endeavor, and therefore it is reasonable to expect that these places of learning would be safe havens for the children while they are preparing for adulthood. Unfortunately, this is not always the case. Schools cannot fulfill their role as places of learning and socialization if children and young people are not in an environment free of violence.

Students, teachers, and administrators are concerned about the need to provide a secure and supportive learning environment for children. Based on your own experiences and/or stories you have heard or read about, in what ways do you think schools are no longer secure? What kind of results could that lead to? Can you suggest any way(s) in which this problem could be alleviated?

Write a 400 word essay on the above topic. (Please, write on every other line with legible handwriting.)
